Please bring your answers to the August 26 OTRCC meeting.

Introduction

Welcome neighbors,

Two years ago we went through a process to identify priorities for the Over-the-Rhine Community Council (OTRCC). Another result was the creation of five committees to work on those priorities and other issues that would come up during the last 24 months. It's time to update the priorities, strategies and assignments.

To do that, we will review the work from two years ago and use that as a departure point for creating our 2019 – 2021 work program. That work will begin at our August 26 OTRCC meeting. In the meantime, please review the materials below. Included are the newly established committees' priorities and lists of things that OTR residents like, things to improve and things that are priorities for OTRCC to work on.

Steps in the Priority-Setting Process

Next month we will work at table groups to discuss your answers to the questions about what you like, your want to improve and OTRCC priorities. To refresh your memory the 2017 answers are below. If you want to borrow answers from those lists, please do so by entering them in the 2019 answer sheet...please remember to bring your answer sheet to the August 26 meeting.

At that meeting, we will share our three highest-priority answers with our table mates. We will have 30 minutes for this exercise, so it will be fast-paced. Hint: the more homework you do, the faster the sharing will go, especially if you remember to bring your answer sheet with you. There will be three segments of eight minutes each. At the end, we will collect and tabulate the answers for our report at the September 23 meeting.
